EGL WINS ORDER FOR SANDGATE

The Environmental Group Limited (EGL) will supply a system to destroy odours from a wastewater treatment plant at Brisbane Water's Sandgate Waste Water Treatment Plant . The order will be worth about $700,000 and be completed by January 2005.

EGL's system will use a proprietary technology. This will be EGL's eleventh sale of this technology and makes it far and away the major provider in the market of proprietary systems for odour control . These have gained acceptance as "best practice" in odour control technology for major sewage treatment plants.

This order provides a flying start to the year for the Gas and Vapour Division coming on the back of a number of recent successes . Other significant orders are anticipated in the 3rd quarter of the calendar year .
