

Patent Design Application Approval- Deed of letters Patent received.

Oldfields Access Pty Ltd a division of Oldfields Holdings Ltd received notification on the 12 of May 2004 informing our company that it was successful in obtaining a twenty year Australian Patent registration for its new products Flexisafe.

Australian Patent No: 2003204102 - Temporary Flooring Support and System.

At present this product is hired into the building industry allowing Oldfield's Access Hire to provide an installation service that meets the specific needs of this market. As a result we have been successful in obtaining new hire contracts to service some of the biggest and prestigious builders along the Eastern States. The product provides a solution to some of the Occupational Health and Safety (OH&S) issues currently perceived with product of this nature.

We expect these new developments will improve the situation at Oldfields into the foreseeable future.
