Mupane production ahead of target

Gallery Gold production from the Mupane operation in Botswana is setting a new benchmark for the Company.

Output for May was 9,342 ounces of gold - approximately 12% above budget and well ahead of the Company's annual production target.

Managing Director Hamish Bohannan said today that the performance was mainly due to good throughput and recovery at the plant processing site.

He said that adjustments to operations and equipment earlier this year were delivering substantial improvements to project production.

“At this stage, all of the indicators are positive,” Mr Bohannan said.

“We're getting good productivity and plant availability at the mill; our grade control drilling is reconciling well with the resource model – and our exploration program to increase resources and reserves is delivering results.”

The Mupane plant was commissioned in October last year. The first of Gallery's gold projects, the operation is designed to produce approximately 100,000 ounces of gold a year.

In the first five months of 2005, the Company has produced 41,871 ounces. Monthly production data is shown in the table below
